Beacon '68: A Yearbook

Valparaiso University Valparaiso, Indiana

I live quietly and crack nuts
I gently steam with engines,
But not without reflection on these times,
These times, my loving meditation.
Don't worry.
Yours is no unique condition,
Your type of search and conflict and construction.
Don't worry if you have no answer ready
To the lasting question.
Hold out, meditate, listen.
Explore
Explore . . .

Yevgeny Yevtushenko

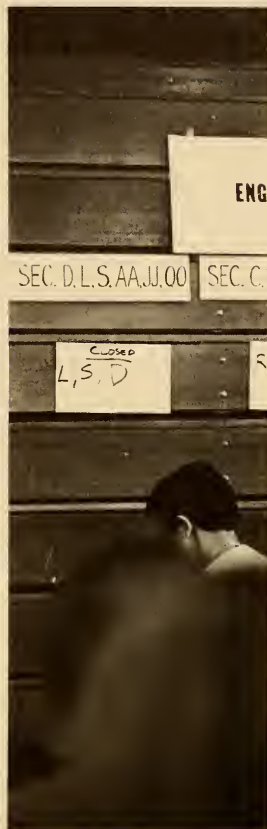

"Zima Junction"

The Great American Dream or so they tell us. The be ALL end All of the Modern Mass Culture. A one-way street to the Button-down world of the middle class. A college education—or more exactly—a college Diploma. The tangible passport to Success . . . or so they tell us. “They” tell us a lot of things: ignore the double standard, go to Church on Sunday, and love your Mother, God, and Country. And if you get a chance, grow up Republican, Missouri Synod, play bridge, and Never learn what a Bagel is. It’s easy. Adopt the prescribed values, accepted dress, and you get the Brass Ring, the $200, and never go to jail. But you can’t get anywhere without an education and everybody has to go somewhere—Logic, right? Therefore, polish that National Honor Society pin, apply for College: you’re home Free. And with mother looking on Tearfully, your Fly zipped, and the Samsonite in hand, you hop on the Yellow Brick road for the “most wonderful four years of your life” . . . or so they tell us.

It’s a trip (to use the current vernacular) to a culture seemingly quite alien to the one we’re being trained to enter. Self-analysis, criticism, questioning come easy where time is plentiful and adult responsibility is light—but consideration of the Individual above the mass, a simple Groping for the composite Me, Faith versus Unfaith seem to us a justifiable substitute for the 9am to 5pm Values of the outside world. The Outside world. We are ideally expected to explore this “outside world”—not necessarily in Yevtushenko’s Mystical manner but nonetheless take a Look, Poke, and a Feel at what’s There: at the big Trick or Treat Mask, full of inconsistencies and rights and wrongs, a credibility gap a Mile Wide: Tillich’s Age of Broken Symbols.

The exploration can take many forms, many routes, many degrees of Dedication depending on what the budget, the traffic and the Establishment Allows. That's what it's all about: The Great American Dream. A yellow brick expressway Trip in search of the world and its values and more importantly a search for your World and Your values. The Expressway ride is Fun. Most of us do it in a Mustang. It's fitting your values with the World's values that causes the hang-up. (Enter the University, the Establishment dressed in Red, White, and Blue and Wing Tips with an apple Pie under its Right arm.) Liking to admit it or not, it's this very Establishment that makes the road so Golden and teaches the fine Art of integrating Your world and your Values to the one Outside—the one that in four years and a trip through the Big War we all have to live with and live in. As students we complain of diploma Mills and too much Goal orientation and it Exists. But this Four years of orientation can also give ample time for Personal exploration. No IBM card or teaching assistant can help you with that.

They tell us it's a good four years and most of us (if we really want to) can come out of it with an apple pie under one arm and a flower under the other.

We can't record your exploration here no matter how sophomoric or idealistic. That's something Personal or non-existent. And if the Former holds true, it might bear some recollection and thus the following pages. We give you a Map in words and pictures of Valparaiso University in 1968, the year of the Big War. The rest is up to you. No fair Shop-lifting provisions at Miller's.

“What can you say about a town that has a drag strip,
a nudist colony,
and claims to be the popcorn capital of the country?”

Mud flaps, mascara,
Tight pants, and shrill, 13-year-old giggles
Outside Bob's Pizza, neon and racing slicks
Screamer, buffoon Yokel with the grease and
A charge account at Fetla's
Or a heavy hand on the cash register.
Screamer, buffoon, yokel—
TOWNIE: of the town,
Related to, concerned with,
Indigenous of
The Town.

Townie.

Bow and scrape townie.

It's a long way up to that ivory, ivy-covered Tower of higher learning
With the books, parking stickers, fraternity men, and tomorrow's leaders From status quo USA: Quincy, Webster Groves, and Shaker Heights.

Have faith townie! The Status Quo Missionary Society (Collegiate Chapter)
Is out to save your soul. Like Dale Carnegie but

For free. Save your soul, walk on your streets,
Into your stores, movies, and tell you exactly

How they differ from Shaker Heights, Webster Groves, or Quincy.

And how
 With a little bit of work,
 Tolerance,
 And a pair of Weejuns
 And some taste
 Your town can be just like back home:
 Back home in Shaker Heights
 Webster Groves

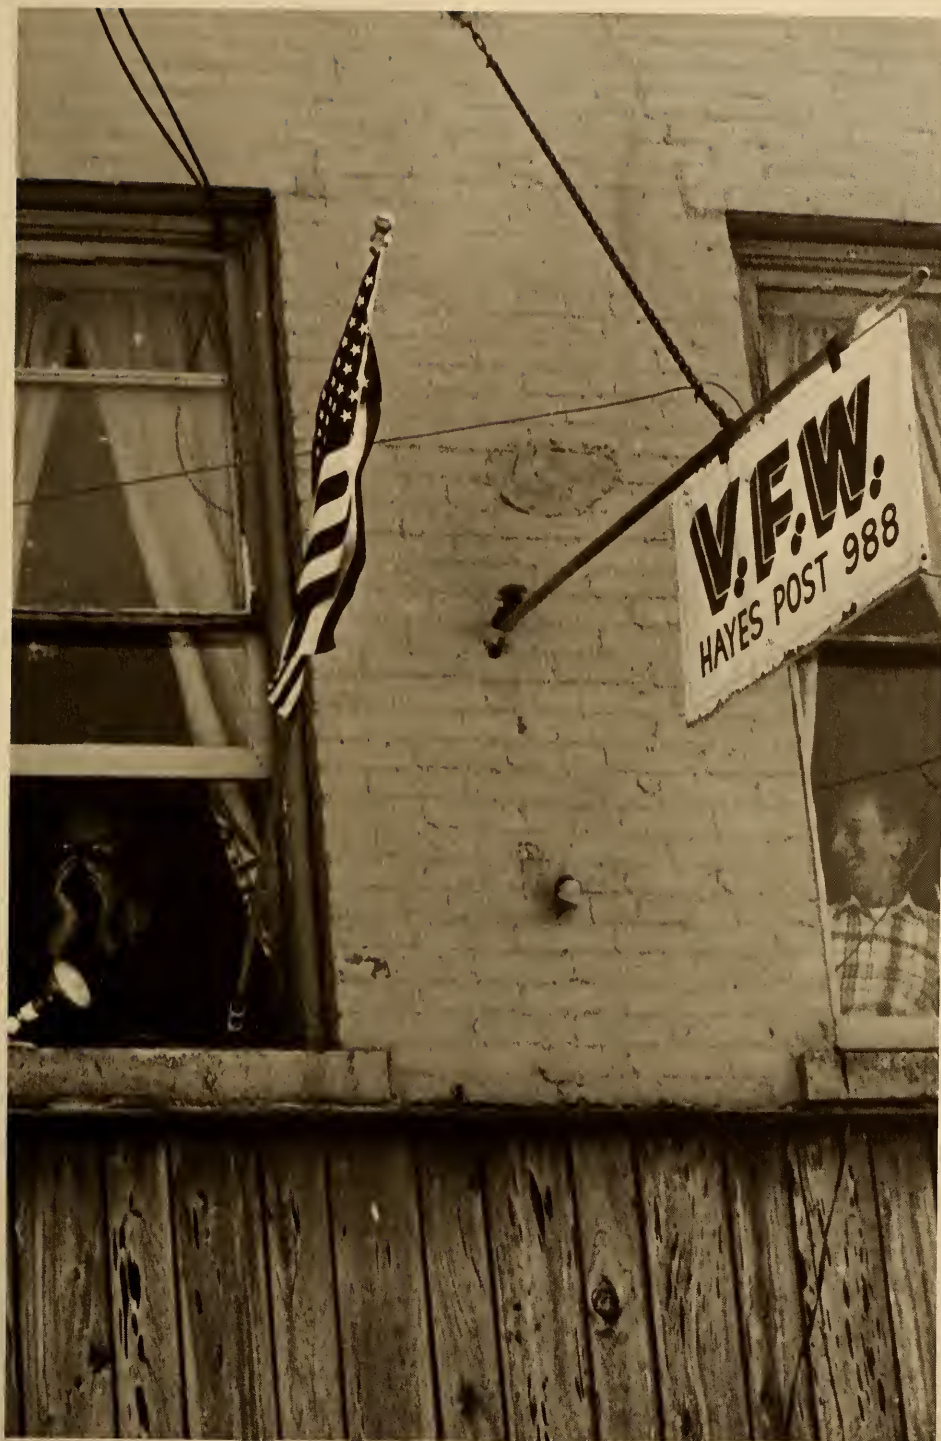

Or Quincy where
 Bigots, the VFW, George Wallace
 And rent gouging
 Are never heard of.
 Too bad beads, mirrors,
 And calico
 Are just for Indians.

But, of course,
Back home wouldn't look so good
At Christmas,
Saturday afternoons at Lowenstines
Not half so Amusing,
Letters home that much shorter,
Our concept of the Real
Outside world, its values and defects,
Its human and physical love & squalor,
And our ability
To cope and relate that much more
Bigoted,
And blind date conversation would be
That much duller.
Right this way to US 30 Dragstrip.

“The Only Place You Can Go to Cry Is the Shower . . .”

Living en masse (dormitory, apartment, and fraternity)
 Makes many people and things into same Person or thing.
 People are Jan, Sam, Ann, and Pam
 Things are mailboxes: 301
 FG-I-A, 302,
 40-9-8, 303,
 JanSam-Ann-Pam.
 My window sign says I am an "I am!"

Generalizations:

Mother's food good.

College food bad

Bad a la dorm, make your own bad,

And eat-out (good, but bad cost).

Veal, breaded veal, is a bad dorm meal

So go to the Wheel (i.e. Big bad).

With few pans, some plates,

Many ice-trays, and most glasses

An apartment dweller makes drinks good and food bad.

Dear Mother good, How are you?

I am hungry. Please send food.

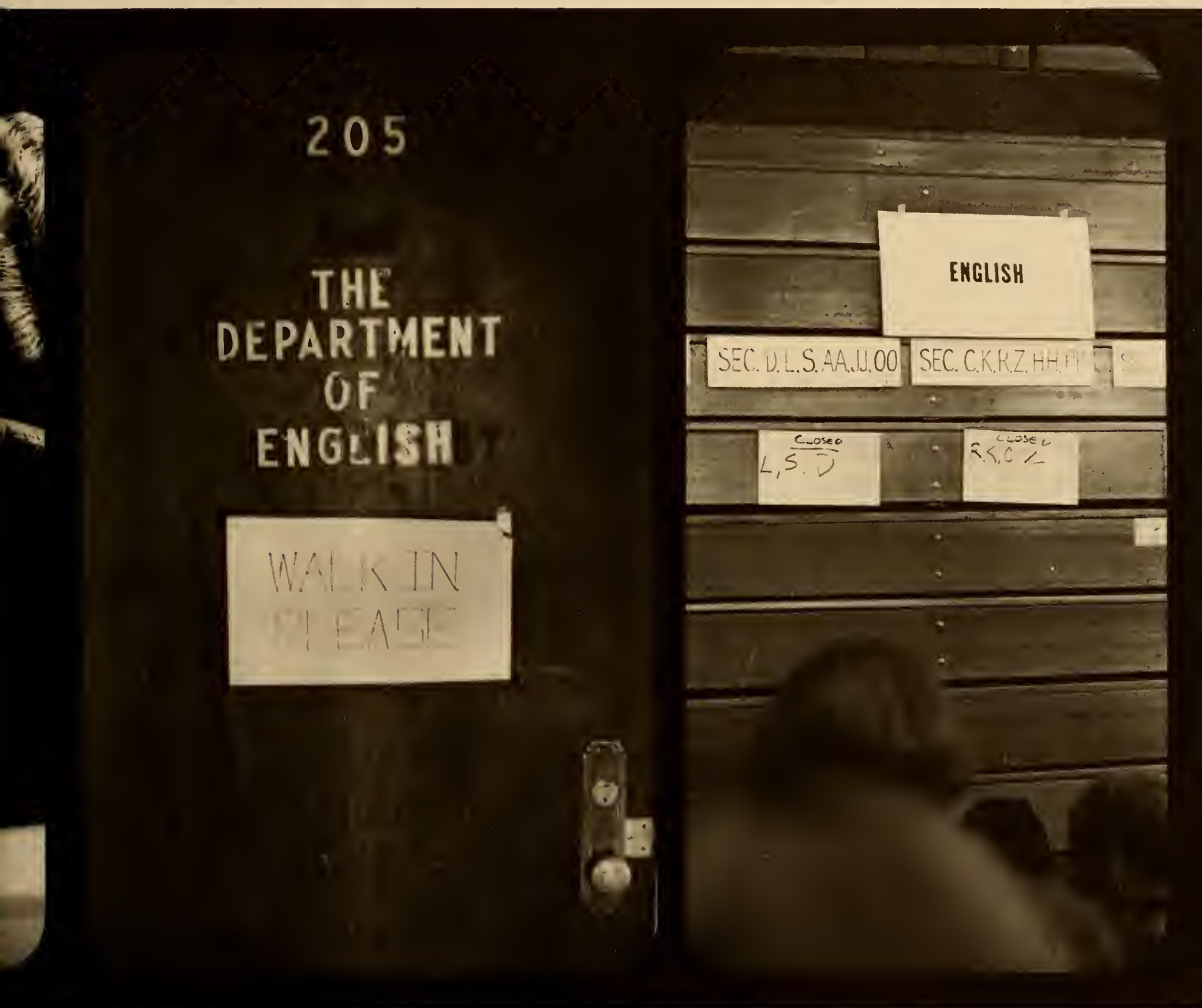

(Chocolate chip cookies are nice.)

“... Studying is fine if you keep it in perspective with the other reasons for coming here...”

Selling cosmetics at Woolworth's hard
On your feet?
A June to Sept. of frothy pink
And apricot-peach reviloux
Make a penetrating analysis of John 5:18 seem Like four coffee breaks
In a row without the girls.
Academics, the lesser of many evils
As long as it includes Weejuns
And sleeping til noon on Thursday and Tuesday
And an occasional trip to the Phi Delt house.

Academics

Is what you have to come here for.
And if you're inclined,
A purpose which can easily be Subverted;
And often with a bit of prodding
From the establishment.
Registration for instance.
Or should we say the administration's Dante-like Conception of purgatory
With lines of long-faced students Trodding hypnotically from the Union to the gym to the registrar's office
To the gym, ad infinitum,
With each department working
Its own particular tortures
On those poor souls who couldn't Con their way into pre-registration.

Or Tues.—Thurs. Freshmen Composition (Better known as an experiment in communication).
 Mass communication decidedly
 Not in the Marshall McLuhan tradition
 Who along with countless freshman
 Rarely communicates in particulars and details
 Of the genre manufactured to pacify
 The Department of English.
 Those in Christ College Tutorial Need not identify
 With the above.
 We could cry something besides wolf.

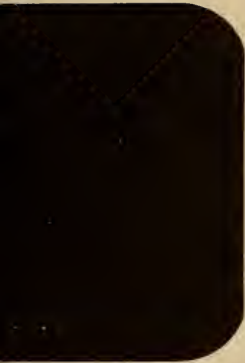

No Class
Tonight
PR

To be frank,
Most of us came here to learn to "do" something
So we wouldn't have to go back to Woolworth's
Or Park and Shop or the warehouse
For more than three summers.
And to that extent the spirit of academics
Pervades the student body.
And what's wrong with it?
Swarthmore only has room for 1800
Intellectual types.
And if you're
Really hung up about the non-intellectual image
You can always order your Christ College sweatshirt
In blue,
Burgundy or olive.

“Culture? . . . it’s there I guess, but nobody forces it down your throat . . .”

Ours is generally regarded As a liberal arts institution.
In other words,
We are here to become
Well-rounded which does not imply
Developing a beer-belly.
It does imply developing
A healthy interest and participation
In the arts,
To use catalog terminology

Which is about as valid
As the cultural climate
Here at Valpo.
It is nice to know that Debussy did not Write Rhapsody in Blue,
That Rubens is not
A post-impressionist painter,
And that if necessary,
One can endure an evening of Bach
Via the Chapel organ.

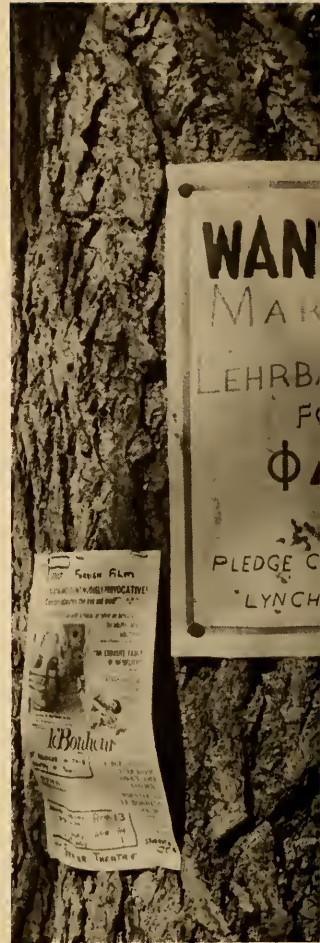

But why not go
To a Matt Helm movie
Instead of a concert
Of European concertos,
If European concertos
Hold no interest for you,
And if your well-being
And value system
Will not be impaired by
Your lack of interest?

Those who do have an interest can sing
 And paint and emote and sculpt and observe Around here (or better yet go to Chicago
 To do the above mentioned things)
 With no ostracism, much encouragement
 And a relative degree of success.
 The Issue is not forced, it's Fostered.
 Granted, the fine arts enthusiasts
 Are dilligent in their missionary work,
 Putting on plays and concerts,
 And are more than willing to educate.
 But the great mass of the Unlearned
 Still find the foreign film their Bag:
 It edifies, it culturates,
 And would shake the Orthopedic oxfords
 Off Mom with the Apple pie if she knew Sandra Dee had lost out to foreigners
 Of Questionable Religious scruples.

get a date . . .
but trying to find somewhere to go that isn’t two miles away, well lighted and crowded, is rough.”

Four years of college can be described
With a large degree of accuracy
As the time it takes to get from 7:30
Wednesday morning to a rainy Friday night,
The succession of term papers
That sound like any number of four-letter Expletives, dorm meals of the Same genre, and a stream of Boxes of gritty fudge and broken chocolate
Chip Cookies
It’s the part of college
Which makes necessary
The celebrations we call winter weekend
Or the Alpha Xi formal
Or Homecoming or a party at the apartment
Next door.

Where there's time and opportunity to forget

"WE" are:

"We can be, "we" may be, "we" ought to be.
 The greeks here seem to have it over the independents
 On this level, but then that's their purpose,
 And almost anyone who wants to can espouse it (Except freshmen men who are Held in monastic bondage while Visions of cars and apartments
 And greek sweatshirts dance in Their heads).
 The lack of available amusements other than
 The Premier or an occasional dance
 At the Union forces most of the campus social life Underground, or at least to the OB,
 Where Elmer reigns as undisputed King
 And his popularity rests on the inquisitive nature
 Of the Waitresses.

And besides,
Freshmen should be in the dorm Studying and getting used to The discipline of College,
Which they spend the next three Reacting against by means
Of their social life.

“Play by the rules or cheat . . .
 it’s still a dull game . . .”

Every other Friday is not homecoming
Or even anything close to it.
Everyday is not the occasion for a Meaningful exchange
With your roommate
Or the girl behind the cafeteria
 Counter or an Afternoon of sitting under
The trees on old campus.
Everyday is a lot of things that
Are not normally
In the spectrum or promotional or Yearbook photography or comment.
 Everyday is Routine

Everyday is a 7:30,
 A roommate who bitches
 And steals your toothpaste.
 It's letters and diagrams
 And footnotes and doodles
 On margins in your notebook,
 And the gnawing feeling
 That tomorrow
 Is the same thing
 All over again,
 Until Easter vacation.

Everyday becomes a trap,
A dull game
To see who can Make it through
To Saturday morning
With the least amount
Of work,
A dull game.

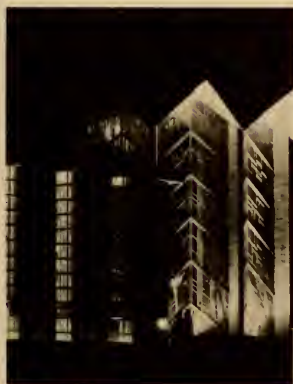

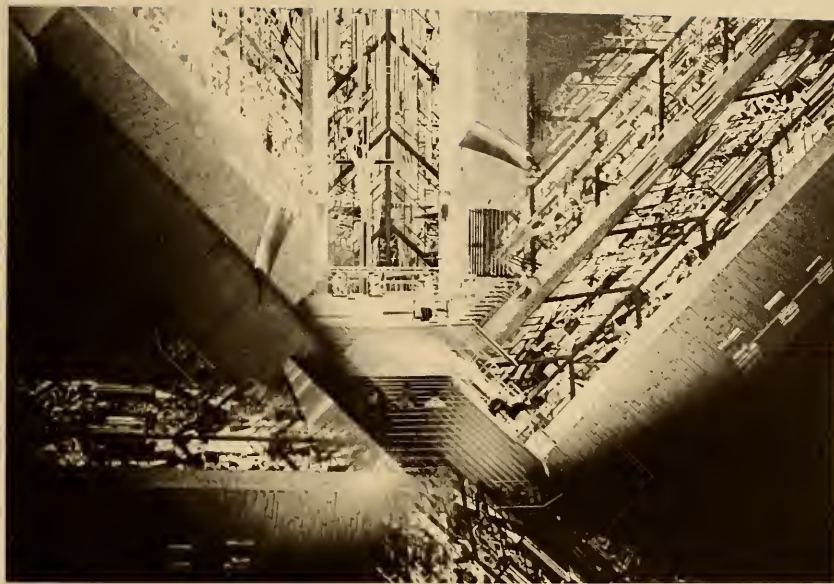

The Moody Bible Institute
Is fifty miles north of here.
There is no liquor, or miniskirts
Or fraternities
Or absences from Chapel.
It is a religiously oriented institution
And so is ours. But We drink here and knees are commonplace
(Though not necessarily attractive).
Then how do we qualify
For the same pigeon hole?

“ . . . Spiritual life doesn’t begin and end at chapel
. . . God is God as much at 4:30 a.m.
as He is at Vespers.”

The evidence lies in what the catalog nemesis Refers to as the Spiritual life of the Student (even those Who drink, wear mini-skirts
 And are not German-type Lutherans)
 Which for all intents and purposes
 Is a great deal more subtle than chapel,
 And vespers or the Communion march
 On Sunday morning.
 It is authentically more visible
 In the Feeling behind the words
 Honor Code Upheld.

Or in eight-year-olds who find
 Learning multiplication tables
 As much fun as stealing pop bottles
 And think french fries in the union
 The highlight of the trip away from Wherever and whatever Home is.
 For all its schmaltz There is A Closeness, a concern here for people
 That can only find its character in Religious Origins.
 Nobody says Pray!
 Or go to Chapel or Communion.
 It would be as futile as requiring Attendance at a 4:15 the day
 Christmas vacation starts.
 We're not of Sunday School age and We're not treated that way.
 The spiritual life here is oriented
 Towards mature, thinking people
 Trying to fit God
 (Alive, dead, or hiding out in Argentina)
 Into the Ford Station wagon
 Of the Modern Context.

“A Symbol . . .
Security . . .
and Santa Claus . . .”

Shooting down the Status quo;
Iconoclasm, if the intellectuals insist,
Is the prerogative of the Student.
He has the license,
The ability
(Often not convincingly) to do so,
Even if it's as basic as humbugging
Christmas and the old morality.
Adherence to symbols, to long standing consensus
And widely accepted tradition,
Is rare but a need and a tendency
Ingrained in us all:
A basic security in an insecure world.
Otto Paul Kretzmann,
S.T.M., Litt.D., D.D., LL.D., L.H.D., Is no more a symbol of security than Carol Baker or Troy Donahue or Richard Nixon.

But O.P. Is.
In a world filled with hate,
Look magazine synthetic hippies
And the Bomb,
Academic degrees mean very little.
While Integrity, Humanity,
Understanding and Christian Love are made all the More important
By the exception being better than the rule.
Amazingly, O.P. is all of those things
And Santa Claus, and Homecoming rolled into one.
In reality it's hard to determine which came first:
The University or O.P.
No matter what the answer,
In our hearts and in our memories,
It's impossible to separate the two.

Both the Interfraternity and Intersorority Councils have as their aim the government and direction of interests which are common to the participating groups. Support of worthwhile activities on a campus-wide basis, such as the "Week of Challenge," the bloodmobile program, etc. are mutual goals. The councils are mainly concerned with the maintainance of high academic standards and the revitalization of the Greek image on campus. Greek Week, a common project of the ISC and IFC, is intended to strengthen unity among the organizations through community service.

Disappointing Season

Mars

Coach Bauer's

Retirement

Although the 3—6 record was a discouraging rerun of last season, 1967 was a significant year for the Crusaders. The withdrawal of crown clincher Ball State from the Indiana Collegiate Conference put Valpo in a good position in the scramble for the conference championship. Moreover, the big and speedy frosh squad which racked up a 2—1 tally was another hopeful sign for Crusader fans. Of the greatest importance however, was the vacating of the head coach's spot held by retiring Emory Bauer. Bauer who compiled an overall record of 109—82—7 piloted the gridsters to four conference championships (1951, '54, with Butler in '52, and four other schools in '64) and two undefeated seasons (1950 and '51). Norman Amundsen formerly of Beloit College was named to take over for Bauer.

As in any year, graduation did not help the Crusaders. Stand-out quarterback, Jon Dimitri left that position after having snared the I.C.C. passing honors and finishing second in total offense. However, Kurt Krueger and Mike Love who took fifth and eighth in the pass receiving category returned. Love also captured fourth in the kickoff return division. Steve Berning was named the Most Valuable Player.

The team's hour of glory, if there was one at all, was the homecoming romp over Butler. This win gave the Crusaders some company in the I.C.C. cellar, namely Butler who had an identical conference record of 1—5.

For one of the few times, morale soared during the week before the clash with arch-rival, St. Joseph. The heist of the 600 pound victory bell by some St. Joe students provoked a full-scale commando raid against the Pumas. Squads were formed to liberate the bell and carry out other assorted acts of terrorism and intimidation. The bell wasn't recovered; however, and reprisals other than the 34—0 humiliation at the hands of the Pumas were thwarted by about 150 Valpo vigilantes who patrolled the campus.

Strange things happened during the game with Ball State. The ball became balanced on the edge of the basket support holding the game up for several minutes. The shot was ruled good and the Crusaders eventually won.

Bartow Loses

Big

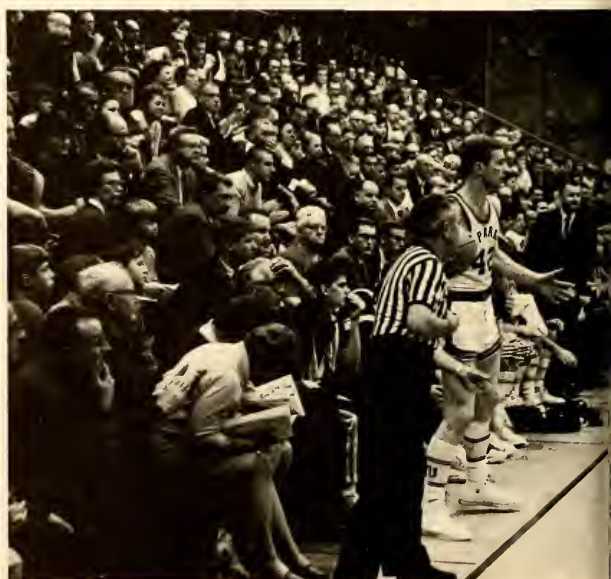

Gamble

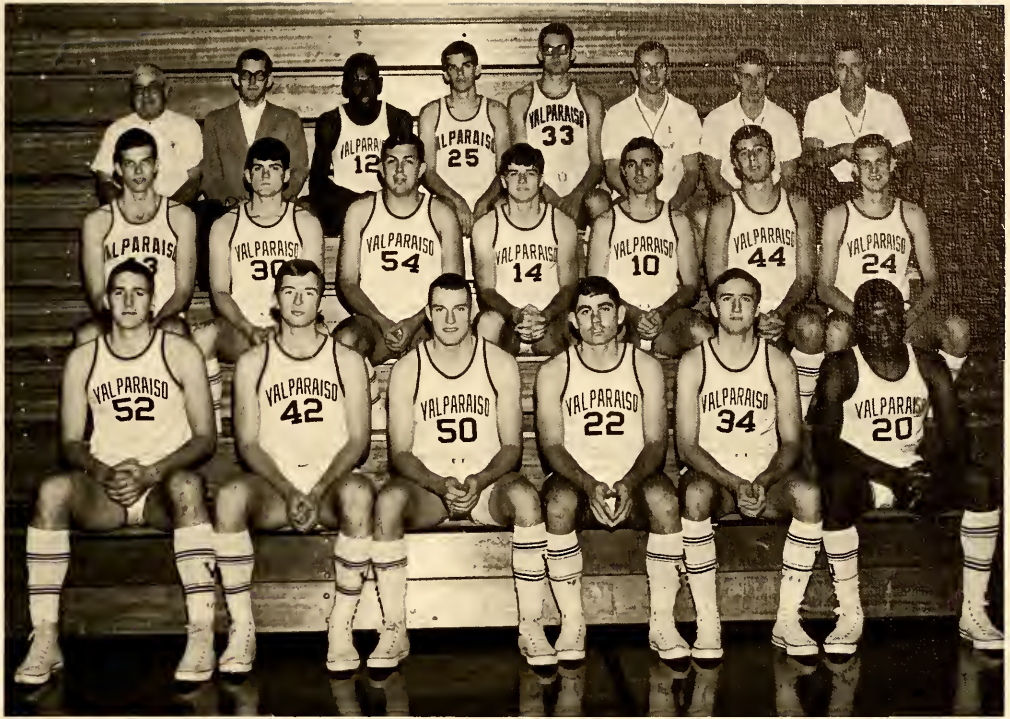

With the dream of breaking into the big league and gaining a national reputation for itself, the Crusaders took on one of its stiffest schedules ever. But the only fame it gained was in the record books when Number One Houston and the "Big E" plunked in 158 points against them.

For Coach Bartow it was a nightmare season; for the first time in thirteen years of coaching (four of them at Valpo) his team finished with more losses than wins. The cagers in one short year dived from the top of the I.C.C. to the bottom. The Crusaders were hampered mainly by a lack of height and experience; however, a relatively tall freshman squad should remedy part of the problem.

Fortunately, only two players graduated—ace, Dick Jones, holder of the V.U. career scoring record and Dick Briars. Rebound leader, Ty Williams and the sophomore crew will return with hopes of putting Valpo back on top.

Epilogue

Existing in one place—namely Valparaíso—normally makes us think of how nice it would be to go to another where the drinking age is 18 or the movie theatres numbered more than one and the women have no Hours. Where culture abounds and the Valpo paragraph Doesn't.

However, when it comes down to the nitty-gritty, when the opportunity is tailor-made and the yellow brick road nicely polished, where is the mass exodus? The streaming horde of freshmen who spent their first six months humming "we gotta get out of this place" with naive determination?

In the union, or at the Pike house or on the Alpha corridor. As the cynic would put it: they've been sucked In.

To What?

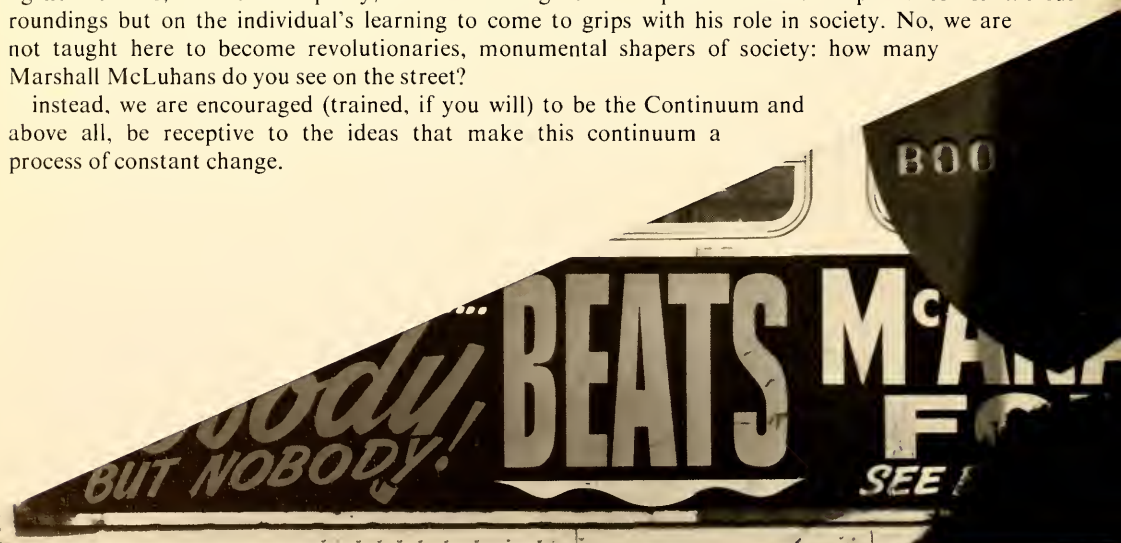

The Look magazine synthetic hippie who smokes, smells, spits (on general hersey and VFW members, mostly) and tries devilishly hard, would say Not Much and then go off to the land of serious wire rim glasses wearers and nickel bags in the tradition of the Union cup of coffee.

For those of us left here, there's a lot. And despite what the local intelligencia claims, it's not all apathy, it's the makings of an experiment which depends not on the surroundings but on the individual's learning to come to grips with his role in society. No, we are not taught here to become revolutionaries, monumental shapers of society: how many Marshall McLuhans do you see on the street?

instead, we are encouraged (trained, if you will) to be the Continuum and above all, be receptive to the ideas that make this continuum a process of constant change.

By the time most people get around to reading this tome, it will be mid-August on Tuesday night when television is rotten, it's raining outside and going back to good old Valpo seems like a half-way enjoyable idea. Out of boredom they will turn to the Beacon to see how great college life really is and occasionally get desperate enough to read the editor's letter to kill time to September 9.

If there was any object to this yearbook, it was to create an impression of the year of the Big War and let the reader take it from there. This was partially out of latent laziness but also out of a desire to let the reader have an opportunity to create his own, personal conception of the year. Such is the option. If the reader cares to ignore it, I imagine he can take this book to Alice's Restaurant (one-half mile from the RR track) and along with one shiny nickel exchange it for a fairly fresh Hershey almond bar.
